

Kallie Hubbard from Eupora is a MSU senior majoring in social work. Hubbard is also a macro-practice intern for United Way of North Central MS. After graduation she plans to pursue a career in service of her community.

"Caring and giving in a macro-practice setting means to give back to the community," she said. "Individuals who come together to help give back create a united community and help serve the needs of those around them. Standing together as a united community, we can accomplish anything."

United We Read experienced a record-breaking donation of 6,000 books that are being distributed freely to families, children and adults.
